Art therapy for grief is a peer support program for children and teens who are recovering from the death of a loved one. The objectives of these 9 week groups are to help children and teens learn about grief and share their feelings with other peers. Parents have an opportunity to share and learn from their own peers as well.

The facilitators offer an opportunity for the participants to explore their feelings through various means, including creating drawings, paintings or collages inspired by specific themes and relaxation techniques. The participants are encouraged to share their work with the group, offer feedback and support to one another.

This year we will include a special *Butterfly Release Event. All friends and family welcome.
